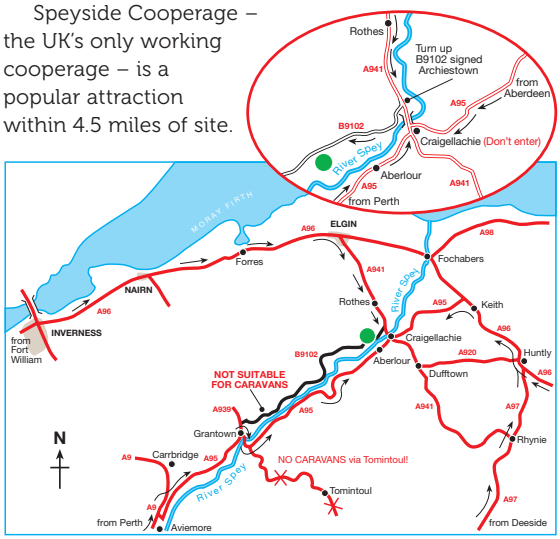
A real taste of the Scottish Highlands

Set on a gentle south-facing slope in a lightly wooded area, the Club Site at Speyside is only a stone's throw from the area's well-known distilleries.

There are at least 50 in Speyside, including the world-famous Macallan Distillery (within two miles of site), and most offer tours. Whisky festivals take place in May and September, when distilleries, pubs, shops and restaurants celebrate the local tipple.

The 84 mile-long Speyside Way connects the Moray Coast with the Grampian mountains and passes near the Club Site, and walkers can also enjoy the treetop trail and Wild Water Coaster at the Landmark Forest Heritage Park, Carrbridge.

In summer months many local towns and villages hold their own Highland Games and ceilidhs.


Speyside Cooperage – the UK's only working cooperage – is a popular attraction within 4.5 miles of site.
